How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for dyspepsia, torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever see anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced. It seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the stomach and Bowels.

Foxes with Charmed Lives.

More foxes flourish in eastern Pennsylvania than can probably be found in any other early settled state. There is no question but that as many are now roaming the hills and ridges near Reading as there were a century ago. None have been shot this season already by young sportsmen near the village of Rock, and thirteen more have been killed in the vicinity of Pikeville. The foxes have grown so bold that they give the farmers a great deal of annoyance by their depredations. Frank H. Werner, a farmer residing near Epler's church, discovered on Wednesday a large red fox in his barn.

Before he could get his gun the animal had disappeared, carrying two fat hens. Members of the Morgantown Fox Hunting club captured three foxes—a large male and two females—alive the other day at the base of the Welsh mountains, near Carnarvon, and are now keeping them confined until the next hunt. Three or four big foxes are seen almost every day in the neighborhood of Yellow House, but they all appear to bear charmed lives.—Reading Times.

Signs of Midsummer.

In the fields the farmers are working over the hay. Along by the stone walls the raspberries are falling off the briars for want of picking. By the wet and marshy places snapdragons go off like bombshells at the touch of the summer winds. The apples that a month and a half ago were dying blossoms are green and swelling into ripeness. Corn in the field is spindling and the potato is blossoming. It is midsummer.—Bangor Commercial.

Will Be Cut with a Buzzsaw.

The Fall River butchers and grocers have arranged for the making of an immense pie to be carried in their procession next month. It will weigh 2,000 pounds and be 8 feet long, 5 feet wide and 2 feet thick. It will contain 600 pounds of beef, 400 of mutton, 500 of fowl, 800 of potatoes, and a barrel of flour will be used in making the crust.—Boston Herald.

The prospectus of an Indian match factory has been issued in Calcutta. The promoters, who are all natives, have collected different kinds of wood suitable for matches from different parts of India, and have forwarded samples of them to experts in London and Hamburg.

One canning company of Salem, Or., has canned 50,000 cans of strawberries this season. Half a dozen canneries at different points have been preserving nearly the same amount each.

THE SILVER LEAGUE CONVENTION.

A Convention of the Silver party of Nevada is to be held at Winnemucca tomorrow, and the indications are that it will be as large and as representative a body as that which convened in Reno last June. So far the Silver party has been the only harmonious political organization in the State. The Cleveland Democrats allege that they were disfranchised by the Winnemucca State Convention and they are intent on nominating Presidential Electors, who will be pledged to vote for the Chicago nominee in the improbable event of their election. The Harrison anti-Silver Republicans held a convention independent of the Silver and Weaver men, who have hitherto acted with that party, and nominated a ticket that is pledged to support the Minneapolis candidate. The Silver men, on the contrary, having no object in view but the welfare of the State, acted in unison and nominated Presidential Electors, who are obligated to vote for no man who is not in favor of the full remonetization of silver. Now, in conformity with an act of the Legislature of 1891, the Silver men are again to meet in convention to designate the candidate for whom the Presidential Electors will cast their votes in the electoral college. As the party is unequivocally in favor of free coinage and General Weaver is the only Presidential candidate pledged by platform and declaration to remonetize silver there will, of course, be but one sentiment in the convention regarding him and that will be in favor of endorsing him and placing his name on the petition which must be filed to get the names of the Presidential Electors on the ballot in accordance with said act of 1891.

There is, however, a candidate for every State office to be filled at the ensuing election who is pledged to support no man for President or Legislative office who is not unequivocally in favor of free coinage. The candidates are Francis G. Newlands for Representative in Congress, C. H. Belknap for Judge of the Supreme Court, and Henry L. Fish and Chas. E. Mack for Regents of the State University. Each and all of these gentlemen are unequivocally for free coinage. One of them was nominated by men who have been Democrats, the other by men who have been Republicans, but all are opposed to the election of either of the Wall Street candidates for President of the United States and in favor of Weaver, the only free coinage candidate for President. If they require to be nominated or endorsed by the Silver Convention it seems eminently proper that they should be and that their names should go on the petition to the Secretary of State with those of the Presidential Electors to be placed on the ballot. They are all men of ability and good public speakers, and with the Electors and Senator Stewart advocating the cause of free coinage in Nevada there would virtually be but one ticket in the State, as would actually be the case were it not for Federal patronage, and there would be no doubt whatever of its success in November. Our Senator and Representative could then go to Washington as the proud representatives of a people who ignored party ties and party affiliations for the public good and furnish incontrovertible proof to the goldbugs that Nevada at least considers the remonetization of silver of far greater importance than the success of party or the control of Federal patronage.

The Silver party was organized for the purpose of emphasizing the demand of the people of Nevada for justice at the hands of the national Government. It was strictly non-partisan, and it should remain so. At present it endorses General Weaver because he is for free coinage, but should contingency require it, that is if the silver cause could be advanced by doing so, the convention may again instruct the Electors for whom to vote for President. General Weaver, when here, emphatically declared that if he should not have votes enough to elect him, and the cause of free coinage could be advanced thereby, he would withdraw and use his influence for some other free coinage man who could be elected. The Silver party platform provides for such a contingency and its Presidential Electors are subject to the instructions of the Silver Leagues until they cast their vote for President.

The Palace Hotel, which is well and favorably known to every old Nevada, is being conducted as usual by that veteran landlord, Al White, who spares neither pains nor purse to provide for the comfort and convenience of guests.

Matters of Interest From Home and Abroad.

Tin Plate Factory Dedicated.

Elwood, Ind., September 13.—The American Tin Plate Factory of Elwood was formally dedicated as an American industry today and Wm. McKinley, Jr., officiated at the ceremonies. Some five thousand enthusiastic spectators were present. The small attendance was due to the heavy rain which fell continuously all day. It was not until 12:30 that the train bearing Governor McKinley, Governor Chase of Indiana and others reached the city. Elaborate arrangements were made for speaking in the grove, but the weather prevented this and Governor McKinley made his principal address from the opera house stage. To some hundred people standing in the rain outside, unable to gain admission, Governor McKinley addressed a few brief remarks from the balcony. Governor Chase of Indiana was introduced and spoke briefly.

The Sheriff in Jail. San Francisco, September 13.—Judge Murphy to-day found Sheriff Launeister guilty of contempt of court for refusing to execute murderer John McNulty and sentenced him to 24 hours imprisonment in the county jail. McNulty was found guilty of murdering Thomas Collins, whom he shot over four years ago, and was sentenced to be hanged on August last. Governor Markham, however, granted a reprieve of fifteen days in order that an application for a new trial might be filed. The new trial was refused, but the Sheriff, at the expiration of the reprieve, refused to proceed with the execution without a new order from the Court. The order was issued fixing the date of the execution for October 14th. Judge Murphy holds that the first order fixing the execution for August 19th still held good after the reprieve expired and accordingly found the Sheriff guilty of contempt for not obeying it.

A $40,000 Fire. TEXAS, Wash., September 13.—Texas was visited by a disastrous fire this morning which laid the business portion of the town in ruins. The fire originated in an old barn in the rear of Snyder and Davidson's plumbing establishment, and before it could be checked it destroyed nine business blocks. The total loss will reach $40,000. James McDonald, a railroad, was badly burned. Mrs. Snyder was also burned about the face and hands. Neither are fatally burned.

Evans and Sontag. VINALIA, Cal., September 13.—The posse that started out this afternoon has just returned to town, having met detectives Smith and Burke with the dead bodies of Constable McGinnis of Modesto and C. V. Wilson. Witte was only slightly wounded. Detective Burke says he is satisfied he shot and wounded Evans, and the capture of the desperadoes by parties now in the mountains is a matter of a short time. The man Olsen who was shot is a mountaineer and his remains were left in the hills.

A Boy Kills a Tramp. TACOMA, Wash., September 13.—An unknown tramp was killed at South Prairie last night by Wiley Combs, a 19-year-old boy employed as a hop picker. Combs would not allow three tramps to enter the barn where he slept, whereupon they began to abuse him. He pulled a revolver and shot one dead, the others running away. The boy then surrendered himself to the authorities.

Odd Fellows Grand Lodge. PORTLAND, Or., September 13.—Tomorrow night the first train bearing Odd Fellows to the Sovereign Grand Lodge, which meets here Friday, will arrive and by Thursday it is expected that more than 2,000 Odd Fellows will be in the city. Arches emblematic of the order are being erected, and when the delegates arrive the city will be generally decorated.

Railroad Project Abandoned. SAN FRANCISCO, September 13.—The projectors of the Santa Fe, Prescott and Phoenix Railroad in the process of construction from Ash Fork, south to Phoenix, Arizona, have concluded to abandon work on this line. There seems to be no foundation for the report that the A. & P. and the A. T. & S. F. roads were interested in the proposed line.

A Ship Wrecked. SANJA BARBARA, Cal., September 13.—The British ship Golden Horn went ashore off the south end of Santa Rosa Island at 8 o'clock last night. No lives were lost. The vessel is probably a complete wreck. She was 72 days out from Newcastle, N. S. W., with a cargo of coal from San Pedro.

New Cases of Cholera. HAMBURG, September 13.—Two hundred and thirty-seven new cases and ninety-seven deaths were reported yesterday. It is asserted that it has been ascertained that the cholera was imported into Hamburg by Coolies in ships from Black Sea ports.

Nominated for Governor. TRENTON, N. J., September 13.—John Keen received the Republican nomination for Governor to-day.

To Whom It May Concern. My wife, Irene O. Black, having left my bed and board, without just cause or provocation, I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by her. E. W. BLACK, Fresno, Cal., August 24, 1892.

BANK OF NEVADA BUILDING.

The Corner Stone Laid With Appropriate Ceremonies.

Yesterday afternoon the corner stone of the handsome edifice which is being erected by the Bank of Nevada on Virginia street was laid with appropriate ceremonies. President M. D. Foley of the bank spread the cement and made remarks appropriate to the occasion. Director Powning delivered an address in which he gave a history of the bank, which he designated as peculiarly a Nevada institution. There was a large attendance of spectators, and coins of various denominations and of more or less value and documents of various kinds were placed in the corner stone, among other things a list of stockholders, directors and officers of the Bank of Nevada, also the last annual statement of the bank, list of officers and report of condition of First National Bank of Reno, list of officers of Bullion Bank of Carson, cards of nearly all business houses in Reno, names of State officers, daily papers of Reno and San Francisco and a silver dollar coined at the Carson Mint yesterday.

The stone is a solid block of granite weighing about two and a half tons. It was squared at the Rocklin, California, quarries, whence the stones for the front of the first story of the building are transported by rail to Reno.

EMERALDA FOR STEWART.

The Silver Men Unanimously in Favor of Him.

The following appears in the Hawthorne Bulletin of the 7th: Senator W. M. Stewart is the man who sowed the seeds of the so-called silver movement in Nevada. He may reap the whirlwind.—Chloride Belt.

It goes now just as we wrote it six months ago, except that we would substitute the word cyclone for whirlwind. A Stewart cyclone has swept through odd Emeralds and carried everything before it. The men to be nominated for the Assembly by the Silver Convention next week, and who will be triumphantly elected next November, will be for the man who sowed the seeds of the silver movement, and who enjoys a world-wide reputation as the champion of free coinage, whether the Harrison gold bug organs or the organs on the fence, like the Bulletin, like it or not.—Chloride Belt.

Better Than a Savings Bank.

If you have faith in the future prosperity of the city of Reno, Nevada, invest in well located town lots and you will surely double your money in the next few years. If you cannot buy a lot yourself you can take stock in the Reno Real Estate and Investment Co., and participate in the investments that this corporation will make. The company proposes to purchase centrally located property and erect suitable buildings thereon, obtaining immediate revenue from rents and receiving all benefits from increase in values.

Ice Co. Work.

The Essex Ice Co. at Verdi has a number of teams and a large force of men employed in making improvements. A splendid stone wall is being built from rocks taken out of the bed of the river, and the dirt and rock from the island in the company's present pond is being banked up against the new wall so that the capacity of the company's property for ice purposes will be more than doubled, and it will be enabled to cut 20,000 tons from one crop of 12-inch ice. The lumber is being hauled to the ground for an addition to the present ice house, which will give a storage capacity of 10,000 tons. It is also the intention to build another house of like capacity at an early day. The improvements that are being made will make the Essex Ice Co.'s plant one of the greatest on the Truckee river.

Still Growing.

A glance at the map of Powning's Addition shows that with but very few exceptions all of the most eligible lots have been sold. Along the entire river front, or Riverside Avenue, there are only three corners left, while on Second street there are but four that are not sold. People wonder how it happens, but Reno keeps on growing just the same, and those who are still hunting bargains should buy a lot in Powning's Addition while lots are yet reasonable.

Is Life Worth Living?

Depends on the liver. If suffering with indigestion, or troubled with malaria, that tired, worn out feeling, you will consider life worth very little. But when relieved of these by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator you will count life a blessing and keep the Regulator on hand for any sudden attack of biliousness and sick headache. An active liver makes life a delight. Don't forget the Regulator with a red Z.

For Over Fifty Years

DIED.

BAGLEY—At Yreka, California, September 12, 1892, Miss May Bagley, aged 19 years and 4 months.
Deceased was the adopted daughter of Richard Bagley of Reno, from whose residence, near the Fair grounds, the funeral will take place at 2 P. M. to-day.

WHAT IS SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors," which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can SCROFULA

It Be Cured? By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofula, and from the time she was 2 months old till she became six years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she can be said to be a healthy child." J. S. CARR, N. J.

A PLEA FOR FREE COINAGE.

Newlands' Argument at the Bankers' Convention.

Honorable Francis G. Newlands of Reno, Nevada, Director of the Bank of California, San Francisco, addressed the Convention as follows:

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Convention:—We have listened to Mr. Hart's plan for the creation of State banks as banks of issue, and to his views with reference to the merits of such a system. We have also listened to Mr. Widney's history of the various financial crises, all of which he attributes to the pernicious State bank note system, and we have also listened to his proposal for an increased issue of money through the National Bank system. May we not also with profit consider the wisdom of an issue of money made entirely by the National Government itself, consisting entirely of gold and silver or Government notes backed dollar for dollar by these precious metals?

THE PANIC OF 1873.

And here let me say, parenthetically, in reply to the gentleman who inquired of Mr. Widney why, in his narrative of the various panics of the country, which he claims have been caused by the State bank system, he did not give the history of the panic of 1873? It may be well to relate the history of that panic and the period of depression following it up to 1878, and to inquire its cause.

You will all recollect that, prior to 1873, the country determined to resume specie payments, fixing the time of resumption in the year 1878 or 1879. What did specie resumption mean? It meant the resumption of payment in both gold and silver and the redemption of all United States notes in such money. Gold and silver were then the acknowledged money metals of the world. It meant this great work which was sufficient to absorb the energies of the Nation—we were to resort to both the gold and silver mines for our money, and that either was to be a legal tender for debt. The metal money of the world then consisted of an equal amount of gold and silver. The silver mines, particularly of this country were producing richly, and it was expected that they would aid in the work of redemption. What did our Congress do in 1873? It passed a law refusing silver coinage in our mints, practically closing the silver mines and preventing them from being utilized in specie resumption. It went farther, and destroyed the legal tender quality of silver, thus preventing utilizing the accumulated store of silver in the shape of money in the world. In addition to taking away the legal tender quality in this country of one-half of the metallic money of the world and making it useless in our great work of specie resumption. In addition to refusing silver bullion coinage in our mints, and thus denying ourselves the benefit of our mines, we started to contract the volume of that artificial currency created by the exigencies of war—the greenback, and by legislation, cruel and fatal, we directed the Secretary of the Treasury to retire the greenbacks as they came in the Treasury, and thus three hundred millions of dollars were retired and destroyed within a few years. Now we all know that the volume of money should increase, so as to maintain at least, the existing per capita.

INCREASE OF THE POPULATION BUT NOT OF CURRENCY.

Now, at the close of the war, we had, by our victory over the South, added practically twelve millions of people to our population, and the volume of artificial currency, called greenbacks, then in circulation in the North, was called upon also to do the work of twelve millions of added population, whose currency, created by the Confederate Government and absolutely dependent upon its maintenance and success for value, became, when the defeat of that government was established, utterly worthless. In this condition of things did we increase our volume of currency? Oh, No. We determined to redeem in specie, which would necessarily lead to contraction and, instead of redeeming in both the precious metals, we concluded to redeem in one, and that one the scarcer. We determined to make the silver coin of the world unavailing for this purpose, and we also determined to close our silver mines, so that no money could be got from them and, in addition, we deliberately retired, in a few years, three hundred millions of greenbacks. In view of the lesson taught to us at the time of the Baring Bros' failure, by the withdrawal of about seventy-five millions of gold from this country, and the consequent contraction of our money values, can we wonder that a period of unexampled panic, stagnation and bankruptcy followed the financial policy of 1873?

FIVE KINDS OF PAPER MONEY.

Now we have been agitating ever since 1873, the question of the restoration of silver to its own place, and we have resorted to various expedients to tide over monetary difficulties. We issued at one time about three hundred and eighty millions, I believe, in National bank notes, but these notes have been gradually retired by the banks themselves until they are reduced to about one hundred and eighty millions and notwithstanding our rapid increase in population, the only increase which we have had has been that caused by the purchase of $2,000,000 per month of silver from 1878 to 1890, and the subsequent purchase of 4,500,000 ounces of silver per month.

The result of all this financial legislation is that we have five kinds of paper money in this country—National bank notes—backed by neither gold nor silver—but secured by Government bonds; over three hundred millions of greenbacks backed by a reserve of only one hundred millions of gold; gold certificates, amounting to one hundred and fifty millions, redeemable in gold; silver certificates, under the Land Act, redeemable in silver; and United States Treasury notes, under the Act of 1890, redeemable in either gold or silver. I ask whether it is not wise for us to consider whether we cannot unify this currency and have one form only of paper money in this country—not a National bank note, not a State bank note and neither gold nor silver certificates, but a bimetallic currency, consisting of Treasury notes—similar in form to those issued under the Act of 1890, backed dollar for dollar by gold or silver in the Treasury and redeemable in gold or silver. My idea would be that we should have one form of the United States note, the form of the note prescribed by the Act of 1890, a United States Treasury note, payable in either gold or silver at the option of the Government. [Applause.] That note would correspond to the note issued in France, which is redeemable in either gold or silver, and the Government there not only has, but exercises the right as to which it shall pay. If it has an abundance of gold it pays in gold; if silver predominates, it pays silver; and then if the holder of the note wishes to exercise his option, they demand of him a premium according to the circumstances and conditions, and yet these notes are held at par in France and throughout the civilized world, even though there is proportionately less silver in their coins than there is in those of the United States. France has the best financial system in the world, the most stable and the most elastic.

HOW THEN CAN WE GET OUR CURRENCY IN THIS CONDITION?

The National banks are gradually retiring their notes of their own volition. They find that the value of the bonds deposited as security for the notes has increased so much that it is not profitable to keep the notes in circulation, and hence they are gradually retiring them. Gold certificates, silver certificates, greenbacks, gold and silver coin are constantly coming in the Treasury of the United States through the customs and tax laws.

A GOOD SUGGESTION.

I would suggest that a law should be passed, providing that whenever gold or silver or gold certificates or silver certificates, or greenbacks go into the Treasury in the payment of dues, that, in their place United States Treasury notes, similar to those issued under the Act of 1890, payable in coin—either gold or silver—should go out. The result would be, that the gold and silver of this country would gradually be accumulated in the Treasury of the United States and yet would be in actual circulation through the United States Treasury notes, redeemable at the Treasury in either gold or silver at the option of the Government. I would have all our notes backed dollar for dollar by gold and silver in the Treasury of the country, keeping them as near as possible in equilibrium so far as amount is concerned, as they do in France by the exercise of the government option.

But an objection is made to silver. It is said that we cannot make these notes payable in either gold or silver, because the silver dollar, as it stands to-day, is worth—its intrinsic value in bullion is—only about sixty-four cents. As a matter of fact, we find that the silver dollar will buy just as much as the gold dollar, and it is only when it is reduced to bullion that it is worth but sixty-four cents in terms of gold.

RESTORE THE USE OF SILVER.

How can we increase the value of that silver? I presume you all will admit that value depends upon the use. What, then, was the use to which silver was put in the world prior to 1873? We know that it was put to very little use for any utilitarian purpose. It did not serve the purpose of iron or tin in the manufacture; it served to a small degree the purpose of ornamentation, simply because it was a precious money metal, but the real use which gave it its value was the monetary use, and that was destroyed by the Act of 1873 in this country, and by the Acts which followed our fatal Act, in Germany, in Italy, in Switzerland, in Holland and in France.

I say, then, if you restore the use of silver, you will restore the value of it, and the only way to restore that use is to give equal privileges with gold in the mints of the country.

But, it is said, America can not do this alone.

I say that America was the first one to lead in this attack upon silver, and it should be the first one to have the courage to retreat from a position since proved to be dangerous to this country and the world [Applause].

I say further that prior to 1873, owing to our greenback system during the war, there was practically no gold or silver in this country, so that we did little to sustain silver. And what countries did sustain silver for more than forty years prior to 1873? Why, France and three or four insignificant countries which constituted the Latin Union, aggregating a population, I believe, not greater than that of the United States to-day.

Now, I say, if those powers held parity between gold and silver for forty years, can it not be safely assumed that the United States, acting in conjunction with nine-tenths of the people of the world who use silver, as against the one-tenth who own the gold?

GOLD PRODUCT DECREASING.

If you do not use silver where will you go? We are growing in population. In thirty years from now we will have doubled our present population, and our population will be one hundred and thirty millions. Will you rely upon the increase in gold to supply the money for that population?

Every statistician will tell you that though the product of the mines is one hundred millions per annum, nearly all of it is absorbed in dentistry and in the arts, and some claim that the accumulated stock of gold coin is being invaded for these purposes. You should consider to what extent the use of gold for these purposes is increasing. I saw the other day a single room in which five thousand dollars had been spent for gold decoration. We all know that the teeth are the grave of gold. The use of gold in dentistry is constantly increasing.

It is utterly impossible, then, to get more money from the gold mines, for their product has been steadily diminishing for years, and how then, are you going to supply a population bound to increase to one hundred and thirty millions of people in thirty years from now, as against sixty-five millions to-day? Where will you go? Must you not go to the silver mines? You certainly must do so unless you are content to issue a sort of fiat money, such as was issued during the war, or issue money based on deposits of wheat or deposits of bonds. And let me say right here, that a deposit of wheat is just as good a security for money as deposits of bonds, and both are contrary to the principles of monetary science so long as either of the precious metals are utilized. I say, then, we must go to one of the old precious metals, to both of them if we can, and as we are denied access to gold, except by borrowing from the accumulated stock, we must resort to the silver mines.

WE HAVE A HOME TO FILL.

Of one hundred and eighty millions, which is being created by the withdrawal of the National Bank notes, and we must get two hundred millions of metallic money in order to back the uncovered greenbacks, for the present issue of three hundred millions of greenbacks is secured only by one hundred millions in gold. And, then, we have to meet a demand every year of between sixty and one hundred millions in order to meet the growing requirements of our country in population and business, so as to maintain the existing per capita.

JUST ONE WORD MORE.

The total amount of the mines of the world last year was only one hundred and forty millions of silver. Assuming that that means approximately one dollar for every ounce, it means one hundred and forty million dollars. Now, I ask, how much of that can we get? Will India and China refuse to take more? They always have taken from forty to fifty millions dollars per annum to meet the wants of millions of people. Will South America stop using silver? Will Mexico fail to continue its use? Is there not a vast market opening up in Africa to-day for money, owing to the efforts that are being made to explore and civilize that country? Can we get all this one hundred and forty millions dollars? I say we cannot possibly get more than eighty or ninety millions per annum, and that will not enable us to meet the growing population, to fill up the hole that is caused by the retirement of the National Bank notes and to back the uncovered greenbacks with coin.

But it is also said that if we open our mints to the free coinage of silver, the nations of Europe will throw their silver upon us. I will not reply with the arguments which are entirely satisfactory to myself that this silver coin being in actual circulation, cannot be withdrawn from those countries and be precipitated upon us, but will simply say any possible fear of this result can be averted by providing by law that no foreign silver coin or bullion that is the product of foreign silver coin shall be admitted to our mints, thus opening our mints only to the natural product of the silver mines of the world. I have the authority of Secretary Windom that this can be easily done, as the importation of silks and other commodities can be prevented under our custom laws. If there is any danger of this kind legislation against it, but do not let mere fear prevent us from utilizing the current product of the mines.

Rest in mind that at the International Conference, composed for the most part of creditor nations—nations to whom we owe vast sums—will not settle this question to our advantage. Remember also that we are largely interested in silver. First, because nearly one-half of our currency is silver. Second, because we are the largest producers of silver in the world. Remember also that you cannot repeal the present silver bill except by substituting another that is better, and that the present silver bill will, unless legislation is passed which will restore the full monetary use and thus effectually raise the value of silver, eventually put this country upon a silver basis. If it is desirable that the country should be held upon a bi-metallic basis the proper legislation must be passed quickly, and the proper bi-metallic legislation should provide for the mintage of both gold and silver equal privileges at the mints of the United States, and a paper currency issued, backed by both gold and silver in the treasury, which can be paid out at any time upon surrender of the notes.

NOT ENOUGH GOLD AND SILVER.

We have in this world three kinds of money—gold, silver and uncovered paper. The statisticians say that, in value, one-third is gold, one-third is silver, and one-third uncovered paper, about four thousand millions dollars of each. As long as there is a dollar of uncovered paper in the world it is evident that there is not enough of gold and silver, and why should we, when there is not enough of either of these metals, or of both, fail to draw upon the mines for the "gradual increase of that money upon the wise and judicious increase of the volume of which depends our security and prosperity as a nation [Prolonged applause].

It was moved by Mr. E. I. Raymond, Vice President of the State National Bank, Denver, Colorado, and Vice President of the American Bankers' Association of Colorado, that the address of Mr. Newlands be printed in the proceedings of the Convention and in the American Banker for circulation.

The motion was unanimously carried, followed by long applause.

Bicycle Notes.

The Riverside Wheelmen held a meeting last evening, at which considerable important business was transacted.

Arrangements were completed for the bicycle races to take place during Fair week, and from the amount of interest shown in the matter the State Fair visitors will be treated to some excellent speed contests. From present indications there will be about eight entries, four of which will be from Carson, and an effort is being made to swell the entries to at least a dozen.

The League of American Wheelmen, of which the Riverside is a branch, claim the right to name their own officers in speed contests, and in accordance therewith the following officers were selected: C. A. Jones, Referee; R. C. Leeper, Starter; J. W. Phillips, R. S. Osburn and J. H. Clark, Judges; M. Fredrick, Clerk of Course; the official timers of the State Agricultural Association to be timers.

It has been decided that in the race for boys under sixteen years of age no boy will be allowed to ride anything but a boy's bicycle.

AN EXPLANATION AND ANSWER.

WHAT IS WINTERILLA?

Why, it is a pleasant and effective remedy for the positive cure of Chapped Hands, Poison Oak, Salt Rheum, Eczema, Sun Burn, Tan; positively removes Freckles, and is one of the grandest luxuries for gentlemen after shaving. This is an excellent article prepared with the greatest care by scientific experts. Its component parts are perfectly harmless, and the ladies toilet is not complete without it. One trial will convince the most skeptical that what we say of WINTERILLA is true. For sale by all druggists in 25c and 50c bottles.

Polliteness Always Pays.

This anecdote teaches in mirthful guise a lesson our boys and girls cannot afford to leave unlearned, which is that true politeness always pays. The story states that an Irish officer in the midst of a hot battle happened to indulge in the courtesy of a bow to some one on the field, a cannon ball passed directly over his head and took off that of the soldier immediately behind him. The bow alone saved his life, which he had the wit to see apparently, for turning to a soldier near him he observed, "You see, my man, a fellow never loses anything by politeness."—Harper's Young People.

How Dorothy Showed Her Sympathy.

Little Dorothy takes a trip alone in the horse cars every morning, under the conductor's care, on her way to the kindergarten. On her return at noon she always has some story to tell of what she has seen on her journey.

"What did you see in the car this morning, Dorothy?" asked her mamma at dinner one day.

"Why, mamma, I saw a man and a woman sitting side by side and quarreling! So I went and sat between them, for I felt so sorry for that poor man, mamma!"—Youth's Companion.

The Shy Female Turtle.

In springtime the female green turtle seeks the shore of a barren island or the bank of a lonely river to lay her eggs. Being very shy, she makes a landing at night cautiously and crawls to a point above high water mark, where she digs a hole one or two feet deep with her flippers. In this hole she lays from 100 to 200 eggs, arranging them very carefully. Finally she scoops the loose sand over the eggs, leveling and smoothing it so that it is hardly possible to tell that there is a nest there.—Interview in Washington Star.

Half Wreath of Ten Thousand Locks.

Mrs. Hattie Chippis, of Budds Lake, N. J., once made a wreath (which she still has in her possession) wholly of human hair. It comprises 10,000 locks from as many different heads, and is arranged in curious and beautiful designs, principally leaves, flowers, etc. She spent over a year in collecting the hair, which is of every shade and color, before the wreath itself was begun. It is a unique ornament, as well as a triumph of patience and ingenuity.—St. Louis Republic.

Takes 1000 people to buy Dr. Siga's Catarrh Remedy, at 50 cents a bottle, to make $500. One failure to cure would take the profit from 4000 sales. Its makers profess to cure "cold in the head," and even chronic catarrh, and if they fail they pay $500 for their over-confidence.

Not in newspaper words but in hard cash! Think of what confidence it takes to put that in the papers—and mean it! Its makers believe in the remedy. Isn't it worth a trial? Isn't any trial preferable to catarrh?

After all, the mild agencies are the best! Perhaps they work more slowly, but they work surely. Dr. Piere's Pleasant Folies are an active agency but quiet and mild. They're sugar-coated, easy to take, never shock nor derange the system and half their power is the mild way in which their work is done. Smallest, cheapest, easiest to take. One a dose. Twenty-five cents a vial. Of all druggists.

"August Flower"

Perhaps you do not believe these statements concerning Green's August Flower. Well, we can't make you. We can't force conviction into your head or medicine into your throat. We don't want to. The money is yours, and the misery is yours; and until you are willing to believe, and spend the one for the relief of the other, they will stay so. John H. Foster, 1122 Brown Street, Philadelphia, says: "My wife is a little Scotch woman, thirty years of age and of a naturally delicate disposition. For five or six years past she has been suffering from Dyspepsia. She became so bad at last that she could not sit down to a meal but she had to vomit it as soon as she had eaten it. Two bottles of your August Flower have cured her, after many doctors failed. She can now eat anything, and enjoy it; and as for Dyspepsia, she does not know that she ever had it."

Cure for Cancer.

Two new remedies have recently been recommended for cancer, and should either one prove entirely successful the painful operation of removal would be no longer necessary. The first remedy is electricity, which is in reality no new idea. There is an army of statistics showing that it has been used by physicians for many years in cancer, but the new application of electricity will probably produce different results. The injections of alcohol in cases of cancer is a remedy, however, that is only of recent use. The needle of the syringe is pushed about an inch in the cancerous tissues, which causes some pain unless cocaine can be administered first.

The alcohol is then injected and the operation repeated daily until the growth of the cancer seems to be checked. In a similar way electricity is applied daily until beneficial results are obtained. Good results in checking the growth of cancer are obtained by both of these remedies, but it is uncertain yet how long the benefit may last.—Yankee Blade.

Bees as Detectives.

Some stolen money was recovered through a queer agency in Hallowell last week. When the loss of the bills was discovered the family at once started to look for the robbers. Two men were seen running down a lane across the farm just beyond Mr. Gilman's house, into which they attempted to break. As they ran, one of the men was seen suddenly to pull out a handkerchief and beat it about his neck, where some of the bees he and his partner had disturbed had alighted.

Judging from his antics, the little creatures got in some effective work. When the pursuers reached the spot at which the man had pulled out his handkerchief they were delighted to find the missing roll of bills, which the man had dropped.—Lewiston Journal.

A Brilliant Aurora.

One of the most brilliant auroral displays witnessed in this section since 1859 occurred Saturday night between 10 o'clock and midnight. It began in the north and spread to the northeast, at times reaching quite from the horizon to the zenith. The light flashes followed each other in quick succession, each more extended than the other and more brilliant until the climax had been reached.—Pittsburg Commercial Gazette.
